How to Apply

Applicants will participate in a standardized approval process based on scientific merit, research impact, and sample availability.

Investigators can access these resources online through https://biobank.uth.tmc.edu/BBCIS/ to determine sample and data availability and apply or contact us at UTHealth_CCTS_Biobank@uth.tmc.edu

The CCTS Biobank consists of genomic data, human samples, and related clinical data owned by contributing investigators within the Texas Medical Center available to UTHealth researchers.

We have the following sample types:
- plasma
- serum
- DNA
- buffy coat
- red blood cells
- peripheral blood mononuclear cells
